BILL AMENDED:

SUBJECT: School discipline.

FIRST AUTHOR: Rep. Moses

FIRST SPONSOR:

BILL STATUS: As Introduced

FUNDS AFFECTED: GENERAL
 DEDICATED FEDERAL

IMPACT: Local

Summary of Legislation: The bill provides that a student who withdraws from a school corporation to avoid expulsion or legal action for truancy and who wishes to enroll in a home school program may not enroll unless the parent or legal guardian of the student shows in written form to the school corporation that proposed the expulsion of the student that: (1) the student will receive a comparable educational experience; and (2) that the comparable educational experience can be documented satisfactorily if the terms and conditions are requested by school or legal action.

Effective Date: July 1, 2003.

Explanation of Local Expenditures: Summary: Under the bill, if fewer truant students are permitted to enroll in a home school program the number of expulsions in a given school year may change. If expulsions occur before the ADM date in a given school year, the school corporation's tuition support funding could be affected.

Background: Under current law, a student may withdraw from school between the ages of 16 and 18 with the following requirements: (the student, student's parent or guardian, and the principal agree to the withdraw) and (the withdrawn student must attend an exit interview and provide written acknowledgment of the withdraw with written consent by the parent or guardian and the principal.)

Expulsion Data: The following table illustrates the number of suspensions and expulsions from school years 1997 through 2001. (Data for 2002 are not yet complete).

YEAR	SUSPENSIONS	EXPULSIONS
2001	289,041	6,781
2000	293,934	7,313
1999	305,767	9,263
1998	302,593	10,229
1997	306,034	9,340

In 2000, 2,997 10th, 11th, and 12th grade students were expelled. Grade breakdown for expulsions in 2001 is not available. The number of students expelled for truancy is unknown.

Grade 10-12 public enrollment was 202,422 and total public enrollment was 995,507 for school year 2001-2002. For the 2001-2002 school year, approximately 19,200 students were enrolled in a home school. Approximately $(202,422/995,507 = 20\%)$ of total public enrollment for 2001-2002 were Grade 10, 11, and 12. Applying this percentage times the estimated home school students $(19,200 * 20\%)$ gives approximately 3,840 grade 10, 11, and 12 home school students.
