IMPACT: State

Summary of Legislation: This bill changes the way charges are set at state mental health institutions. The bill repeals provisions concerning the per capita cost of treatment at state mental health institutions and the per capita cost of outpatient services.

Effective Date: July 1, 2006.

Explanation of State Expenditures:

Explanation of State Revenues: This bill eliminates the restriction that requires state mental health facilities to base their charges on certain per capita costs. The bill would allow for a charge structure that could reflect a patient acuity level, allowing patients that require more services or higher intensity services to be charged accordingly. Conversely, patients with less intensive care requirements could be charged less rather than being required to pay on an average cost basis. The charge structure would not be limited to the cost, allowing for charges that might include incentives for meeting operational objectives or other management incentives. The fiscal impact of this bill would be dependent upon administrative actions taken to annually set patient charges at each institution.

Background: Each patient (guardian or parent) in a psychiatric hospital or a state school for the retarded is liable for payment of the cost of treatment and maintenance in an amount to be fixed by the Division of Mental Health and Addiction. The rate varies by institution, whether private pay, Medicaid, and according to the patient's ability to pay.
